HINDUSTAN

GROUP OF INSTITUTIONS

CHENNAI

Driven by an unwavering passion for automobiles and aviation the late Dr. K.C.G. Verghese began his academic journey in 1965 by taking up teaching assignments in Automobile Engineering. Alongside his teaching, he also coached students for the prestigious British Automobile Examination, marking the beginning of a lifelong commitment to education and innovation in the automotive domain.

It was during this period that Dr. Verghese envisioned a venture of his own-one that would shape the future of technical education in India. In 1966, this vision materialized with the establishment of the Hindustan Engineering Training Centre (HETC). What started as a modest institute soon gained remarkable momentum and evolved into the Hindustan Institute of Engineering Technology (HIET).

HIET quickly earned a stellar reputation, particularly among international students. Its popularity extended far beyond India, attracting students from Sri Lanka, countries across the African continent, the Gulf region, Singapore, and Malaysia. The institute became a beacon of excellence, offering quality technical education that transcended borders.

This growing demand and relentless pursuit of knowledge laid the foundation for the emergence of more institutions under the umbrella of the Hindustan Group of Institutions (HGI). Today, HGI stands as a testimony to Dr. Verghese's vision, with a legacy rooted in educational excellence and global outreach.

ABOUT HITS

In response to the growing need for quality engineering education in the early 1980s, the vision of establishing a premier engineering institution took shape. This vision was realized in 1985 with the founding of Hindustan College of Engineering (HCE). Over the years, the institution steadily advanced in stature and was granted the status of a Deemed to be University in 2008, in recognition of its academic excellence and contribution to nation-building. It was then renamed Hindustan Institute of Technology and Science (HITS).

As a Christian Minority Institution, HITS is recognized by prominent statutory bodies such as the University Grants Commission (UGC), All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE), Ministry of Education (formerly MHRD), National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), National Board of Accreditation (NBA), Bar Council of India, Council of Architecture (COA), and Pharmacy Council of India. Today, it stands as one of India's most sought-after institutions for engineering and higher education. HITS is deeply committed to nurturing innovation, fostering academic excellence, and imparting value-based education across a wide range of disciplines. Known for its distinguished faculty, state-of-the-art infrastructure, and a vibrant campus life enriched by both curricular and extracurricular activities, HITS has consistently upheld high standards of academic performance since its inception.

The Institution prides itself on its multicultural student community, which includes learners from across India and numerous countries around the world, such as Afghanistan, Bhutan, China, Egypt, France, Indonesia, Kenya, Korea, Liberia, Libya, Mauritius, Nigeria, Oman, Singapore, Japan, Sri Lanka, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, the UAE, Thailand, Vietnam, the USA, and many more. This global presence reflects HITS's inclusive ethos and international appeal.

Guided by its inspiring motto, "To Make Every Man a Success and No Man a Failure," HITS remains steadfast in its pursuit of academic leadership and holistic development, standing at the forefront of knowledge and innovation.

LEO, THE MASCOT OF HINDUSTAN

Leo - the Hindustan Lion is a personification of the undying spirit of every student who has walked through the citadels of Hindustan. The Lion is the personality, the phenomenon, and the force of the Institution. Dressed in warrior's armor and crowned in gold, when Leo arrives, heads snap, eyes go wide and then the loud roar erupts. Leo is ferocious, powerful, graceful and charismatic. The Mascot embodies and celebrates the vision and values of Hindustan.

The Lion is a creature of purpose, strategy, focus, intelligence, and relentlessness. The way a lion moves through the world, locked onto its goal with absolute precision and determination, is a quiet and powerful reinforcement of the mindset of every Hindustan student.

Beyond the dancing and the electric entrances, Leo stands as a constant beacon of hope. In the moments when the scoreboard looks impossible, when the semester feels unbearable, when self-doubt creeps in louder than the crowd, Leo is there. Standing tall, unwavering, reminding every student that no battle is ever truly lost until the final whistle blows.

Leo is the reminder to be hardworking every single day without losing your joy. To be serious about your goals without forgetting how to live. The lion does not just hunt - it leads, it adapts, it thrives. And that is exactly the kind of all-rounder Hindustan believes every student can become.

As students walk out of Hindustan's gates and into the world beyond, Leo's spirit walks with them urging them to stay sharp in their careers, present in their lives, and balanced in everything they do. Because a true Hindustan Lion does not just succeed in one field. They roar in all of them.

RAGGING - AN OFFENCE

Ragging, in any form, at any place or time, is a criminal and disciplinary offence with serious consequences. It is a grave violation of an individual's dignity and personal liberty, and it has no place in an academic environment that is founded on values of respect, integrity, and inclusivity.

Institutional Stand Against Ragging

At Hindustan Institute of Technology and Science (HITS), we adopt a zero-tolerance policy towards ragging. Any act that undermines the physical or psychological well-being of a student will be dealt with strictly and in accordance with the University Grants Commission (UGC) Regulations, 2009, and applicable laws of the State and Central Governments. Students found guilty of engaging in ragging, or aiding or abetting the same, shall face disciplinary action, which may extend to expulsion from the institution and debarment from future admissions.

In line with the directives issued by the UGC, all senior students, along with their parents or guardians, are required to submit a duly signed Anti-Ragging Undertaking each academic year, affirming their awareness of and commitment to the policy against ragging.

Legal and Regulatory Framework

The UGC Regulations on Curbing the Menace of Ragging in Higher Educational Institutions, 2009 have been enacted under Clause (g) of Sub-section (1) of Section 26 of the UGC Act, 1956. These regulations apply to all higher educational institutions, whether public or private, including their departments, hostels, transportation facilities, and off-campus centres.

The objective of the regulations is clear and unequivocal: to eliminate ragging in all its manifestations by enacting preventive measures, imposing deterrent penalties, and ensuring a safe and nurturing academic atmosphere.

What Constitutes Ragging?

As defined by the UGC, ragging includes any act of physical, verbal, written, psychological, or sexual abuse inflicted by one or more students on another student, typically a newcomer or junior. It encompasses-but is not limited to-the following:

- Teasing, bullying, or mocking in a manner that causes embarrassment or humiliation
- Forcing someone to perform acts against their will, including undignified or unlawful behaviour
- Intimidating or threatening behaviour, especially in a group setting
- Public humiliation, including through acts of sexual overtones or vulgarity
- Harassment involving forced labour, copying assignments, running errands, or other menial tasks
- Compelling a student to reveal personal information, including phone numbers or family details
- Physical violence, or threats thereof, including acts that may result in injury or psychological trauma

These acts not only contravene institutional codes of conduct but may also amount to cognizable criminal offences under Indian Penal Law, punishable with imprisonment, fine, or both.

Disciplinary Actions for Ragging

Depending on the severity and nature of the act, as determined by the Anti-Ragging Committee, any of the following punishments may be imposed:

1. Suspension from attending classes and academic activities
2. Withdrawal of scholarships, fellowships, or financial aid
3. Debarment from examinations and academic evaluations
4. Withholding of results or academic transcripts
5. Suspension or expulsion from hostel accommodations
6. Cancellation of admission
7. Rustication from the institution for one to four semesters
8. Permanent expulsion and a ban from enrolling in any other institution for a specified period
9. Imposition of a monetary fine, ranging from Rs.25,000 to Rs.1,00,000
10. Collective punishment, where individuals responsible cannot be identified

In addition to institutional penalties, such offences may be reported to the law enforcement authorities for further legal proceedings.

Proactive Measures to Curb Ragging

The Institution is committed to creating an environment where students feel safe, respected, and supported. Measures taken include:

- Awareness campaigns and induction programs to sensitize students
- 24/7 helplines and anti-ragging squads to monitor vulnerable areas
- Mandatory Anti-Ragging Undertakings from students and parents
- Surveillance systems, especially in hostels and shared spaces
- Regular counselling and mentoring for students
- Periodic meetings of the Anti-Ragging Committee and Disciplinary Committees

If You Are a Victim or Witness

If you experience or witness any act of ragging, you are urged to report it immediately and confidentially. Silence or inaction may encourage recurrence and put others at risk. All complaints will be handled with utmost sensitivity and seriousness.

Your courage in speaking up helps ensure a safe and inclusive learning environment for all.

Conclusion

Ragging is not a “rite of passage”; it is an act of violence and a violation of human rights. At HITS, we stand united in upholding the values of empathy, equality, and excellence. Together, let us commit to a campus culture that is free from fear and founded on mutual respect.

Say NO to Ragging. Say YES to Respect.
