WEBINAR ON ECONOMICS & BEYOND

16 December 2021

'Meet the Scholar Series' is a unique platform for interaction on aspiring career & research prospects in liberal arts. It primarily enables the students to be familiar with the preliminaries of setting their career goals and research pathways. For this purpose, eminent research scholars from globally renowned institutions of economics/social sciences have been invited in. The first talk in the series hosted Ms Shruthi Dileep from the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE). She had interacted with the students about her career trajectories through history, sociology and development studies as a young scholar. She had also added her scholarly inputs to see 'out of the box' realities of major economic and social phenomena. Students had also actively engaged in the discussions by ways inquiring about the pathways to LSE kind of eminent institutions, how to arrive at conclusive research interests, etc.
